Slavery on the World Wide Web
by Robin Edwards, Vonda-Kay Campbell and Charles Cronin

Black History Sites
http://www.blackquest.com/link.htm Alphabetical list of links to African American History, Culture, and Black Studies resources. Includes slave narratives and the history of slavery in America.

African Experience / Slavery in Ancient World / Middle Passage http://www.unc.edu/mhealy/g10/lilec/ssa/afh/afcol/afcoltx.htm Early European contact with Sub-Saharan Africa.

http://www.highseas.org/mpv_webpages/learning/activities/prevoyage/preb.htm Lessons about the Middle Passage. http://africanncultures.about.com/culture/africanncultures/cs/slave_trade/index.htm Links to over 700 sites including a wide variety of documents about the trans-Atlantic Slave Trade.
http://www.cocc.edu/cagatucci/classes/hum211/timelines httimeline3.htm Timeline of events from before the Atlantic Slave Trade through 19th century European expansion in Africa.

Slavery in the Americas Sites NEW slaveryinamerica.org

New York and Slavery: Complicity and Resistance
Gateway to the City
New York and Slavery: Complicity and Resistance
Gateway to the City

http://web.uccs.edu/~history/index/afroam.html Links to primary source documents on the history of slavery, slave narratives and the slave trade.
http://www.afroam.org/history/slavery/index.html Black resistance to slavery in the United States and a brief introduction to slavery, short stories, the role of women, and a chronology of revolts.
http://www.liunet.edu/cwis/cwp/library/aaslavery.htm Brief explanations of the African-American experience from slavery to freedom written by professors at C.W. Post.
http://www.inform.umd.edu/arhu/depts/history/freedman/fssphome.htm Freedman and Southern Society Project at the University of Maryland. Primary sources on Emancipation and the Civil War.
http://www.amistadamerica.org/history/welcome.html A brief history of Amistad, links for Amistad research and primary source documents.
http://www.nationalgeographic.com/features/99/railroad National Geographic site that takes you on an interactive trip on the Underground Railroad.
http://www.gliah.org and www.yale.edu/glc Primary source material from the Gilda Lerner Institute includes documents on Amistad.
http://docsouth.unc.edu Unedited North American Slave Narratives, beginnings to 1920 at the Documenting the American South site of University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
http://vi.uh.edu/pages/mintz/primary.htm Edited versions of slave narratives including Venture Smith and Olaudah Equiano. Documents average 2,000 to 5,000 words.
http://newdeal.feri.org/asn/ Selections from the Works Progress Administration American Slave Narratives. Seventeen narratives capture the experience of former slaves.
http://www.io.com/~mjolly/ Vanderbilt University's site on slavery in America includes edited narratives by Olaudah Equiano, Venture Smith, Solomon Northup, Frederick Douglass, and John Brown. Includes information on the Underground Railroad and the mistreatment of slaves.
Local History Sites

http://www.nyhistory.com/harriettubman/website.htm Harriet Tubman page has a history of her life and the house where she lived. Links to African-American abolitionists and Underground Railroad sites.

http://www.history.rochester.edu/class/ugrr/home.html  Underground Railroad in Rochester, NY.

http://www.leap.yale.edu/lclc/webtour/webtour4.html  Regional Underground Railroad sites http://www.state.nj.us/state/history/material.html  New Jersey Underground Railroad routes and maps