1698-1700. Earl Of Bellomont and Frederick Philips

1698. The Board Of Trade To The Earl Of Bellomont.

. . . We send you also here inclosed the deposition of Humphrey Perkings of New Yorke, which we caused to be taken for the same reason. It relates to a voyage from New York to Curasso some years ago in a ketch whereof one Smart was master and Colonel Depeyster owner; that you may make what use you can of it, either in troubling those concerned for what is past, or preventing the like (as much as possible) for the future. But upon occasion of this Perkings it is fit that we acquaint your Lordships a little particularly with his story. He was master of a vessell called the Frederick sloop belonging to Mr. Frederick Philips, and (since your Lordship's being there) was sent out under the conduct of Adolphus Philips to cruise for a vessell expected from Madagascar, which vessell they accordingly met, and having taken great quantitys of East India Goods out of her and put them on board this sloop, Adolphus returned in the Madagascar ship with nothing but Negroes to New York. In the mean while this sloop went and lay privately in Delaware Bay till Adolphus came againe from New Yorke to them, and then sent her away (under the conduct of one Jay a Frenchman) North about Scotland to Hamburgh. But at Hamburgh S'r Paul Ricaut his Majesties Resident getting notice of such a vessell with such a cargo, seized what he found and sent the men hither, who have all of them made depositions about the circumstances of the whole voyage.
WHITEHALL, October the 25, 1698.

1698. Colonel Fletcher’s Answers To The Complaints Against Him.
To the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Council for Trade and Plantations.
May it please your Lordships, . . . Glover was an inhabitant of New York and master of a ship built there, and then riding in the harbour; he had another of the like sort. . . .
As for Glover he went directly, as I heard, with a loadings to Barbadoes, and there tooke a new Commission from the Governour, and was thence sent for Negros to Madagascar, and that he was there taken by the Pirates. . . .
I say the same thing in the case of granting a commission to Moston. The case (as I recollect) was thus.
There were several English and Dutch merchants of New Yorke who had hireed the ship Fortune, to fetch negroes from Madagascar, as was every year usually with them. . . .
LONDON, December 24th 1698.

1699. Representation Of The Board Of Trade.
To the Kings Most Excellent Majesty, . . . The 10th Article is: That Colonel Fletcher granted also a like commission to Thomas Moston Commander of the ship Fortune, an unfree bottom, tho' it was then evident that the said ship was not designed for any service of war, but for illegal trade, and the sequel demonstrated it accordingly.
In answer to this article Colonel Fletcher acknowledges that he granted the said Commission to Captain Moston upon the desire of several merchants who had hireed the ship to fetch negroes from Madagascar; but denies his knowledge that the said ship was an unfree bottom: the evidence of which, as it lyes before us, consists of the, information given us by the Earl of Bellomont that the said ship was known to all men to have been formerly a Dutch privateer; also in the copy of her Charter party of affreightment, by which she is hireed to lade other goods as well as Negroes; likewise by the cargo she took in publickly at New Yorke, which the Earl of Bellomont writes was goods proper for the pirates; and in the last place by her seizure and confiscation for illegal trade upon her returne thither. . . . WHITEHALL, March the 9th 1698/9.

1699. The Earl Of Bellomont To The Board Of Trade.
To the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations.

My Lords. . . . But rather than require more soldiers from England (for I confesse I grudge our parting with people out of England) I should advise the sending for negros to Guinea, which I understand are bought there and brought hither all charges whatever being borne for 10£ a piece New Yorke mony, and I can cloath and feed 'em very comfortably for 9d. a piece pr. day sterling money, which is 3d. pr. day lesse than I require for the soldiers. If it were practicable for the King to be the merchant and that whole management of this undertaking were upon his account, which I confess I am not able to judge whether it be (as I said) practicable or would be pleasing to the Nation; but were it so, there would be a profit of at least £50 pr. Cent made of the goods sent over hither and to the other plantations for defraying the charge of making and providing the Stores. . . .

NEW YORKE, Aprill the 17th 1699

1699. The Earl Of Bellomont To The Board Of Trade. Boston

To the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Trade and Plantations.

My Lords. . . . I desire to be directed by your Lordships whether I may not lawfully require bonds of all the ships that go From hence and New Yorke on trading voyages, that they shall not goe to Madagascar nor elsewhere, where pirates frequent. I know 'tis a thing sometimes practised to take the Governors passe for one port or place and sail to another. And that trick was served me last summer at New Yorke by Baldridge and Taylor who fitted out a Briganteen; and took my passe for Antegoa, but I was told their design was for Madagascar or Guinea; when the briganteen was at Sea, whether with or without the privyty of the forementioned Owners I cannot tell she turn’d pirate and went to Newfoundland and robb’d ships.

Now that I have had occasion to mention Baldridge, I will acquaint your lordship with a particularity told me of him by Kidd, when I first examined him in Council, because you had directed in your letter of the 25th of last October or 5th of last January that I should inquire after some pirates kill’d in St. Maries near Madagascar. I question’d Kidd about it, and he told me Baldridge was the occasion of that Insurrction of the Natives and the death of the pirates, for that have inveigled a great number of the nativs of St. Maries, men, women and children on board a ship or ships he caaryed and sold them for slave to a French Island call'd Mascarine or Mascaron, which treachery of Baldridges the Native on the Island revenged on those pirates by cutting their throats. . . .

Boston August 24th 1699.

1700. Heads Of Accusation Against The Earl Of Bellomont

The Earle of Bellomont in justification of these proceedings calumnitates the people of New York of being Pirates and favourers of Piracy and breaking the Acts of navigation whereas it is evident that but one ship has for ten years past gone from thence on a Piraticall voyage and that was pretended to be commissionated by Leisler; “Tis true that severall ships have had a constant trade to Madagascar for Negroes and some of them having lately met with India goods there which they brought an easy rates transported them to New York. These are what I am informed by the Merchants of London will appear to be true. March 11, 1700.

1700. The Earl of Bellomont to Secretary Vernon

...As to the charge against me for suffering the ship New York Marchand to come thither after having been at Madagascar, I have inquir’d ab’t it, and the story of that ship is this: Frederick Philips her owner had appointed her to stop at Delaware Bay, which is 50 leagues westward of this Province, and there his son met her in the Frederick’s sloop, takes out all her E. India goods and sends the Frederick’s sloop and goes to Hamborough (the story whereof you know) and come to this town in the N.York Marchand. Upon notice of the ship’s coming in (for the sloop I never heard of till from your selfe) I sent immediately to search the N.York Marchand, where there was nothing found but a parcel of Negroes, and the trade for Negroes to Madagascar was not them under a prohibition, not until the E. India Act passed in England.
defie all mankind to charge me justly with any sort of corruption in the least degree or with any connivance or partiality shew’d to one man or party more than another…
