Debating the Future of Social Studies

Where Did Social Studies Go Wrong? by Chester Finn, Jr. and Defending Social Studies by Alan Singer ............... 2

Teachers Respond: Debating the Future of Social Studies ................................................................. 10

The Social Studies Wars: Critical Episodes from the Past by Ronald Evans ............................................. 15

Are “Social Studies Extremists” to Blame? by Alan Singer ................................................................. 17

Diane Ravitch’s “The Language Police”: A Review by Michael Whelan ................................................ 20

Teaching New Jersey’s History - Hoboken and the Origins of Modern Baseball by John Staudt .............. 23

The Early Settlers of New Jersey by Nancy Shakir .................................................................................. 25

New Brunswick by Kathy Brunner and Mary Ann Savino ......................................................................... 26

New Jersey Soldiers During the Civil War by Lenny Bussanich .............................................................. 27

Sefhardi Jews of Central Jersey by Nathan M. Reiss ............................................................................. 28

Branch Brook Park - An Historical Perspective by Kathleen P. Galop ...................................................... 29

Women and Minority Workers at Picatinny Arsenal by Patrick J. Owens .................................................. 30

African American Physicians: Breaking Down Barriers in New Jersey by Sandra W. Moss .................... 32

Thomas Edison and the Menlo Park Museum by Jayne O’Neill ............................................................... 34

Teaching New Jersey Labor History by Norman Markowitz ..................................................................... 35

New Jersey and the Struggle for Civil Rights by Larry Greene and Lenworth Gunther ............................ 38

William Paterson: New Jersey’s Founding Father by Brad Weisberger ................................................ 41

Review: Encyclopedia of New Jersey, edited by Maxine Lurie and Marc Mappen .................................... 42

Teaching New York’s History - Otego Village Life by Michele Sacco and Dennis Banks ...................... 44

Asenath Nicholson: A 19th Century Reformer by Maureen Murphy ....................................................... 47

Life on the Lower East Side of New York during the 1920s and 1930s by Edward Yanowitz .................. 49

The Homefront in Rockland County, NY during World War II by William Goetz ..................................... 51

Continuity and Change in East Harlem by Sema Brainin and Andrew Higginbotham ............................ 54

The Great Railroad Strike of 1877 by Maryanne Malecki ....................................................................... 57

Picturing Rochester’s History by Sylvia Barker with photographs by Alan Singer .................................... 60

The Struggle for Women’s Rights in New York State by Andrea Libresco ................................................ 64

Teaching Ideas - The Workshop Approach in Social Studies by Geoffrey Cabot ................................... 73

Vocabulary Recognition with Learning Disabled High School Students by Casey Jakubowski ............... 74

Using Fiction to Picture the Past by Sally Smith ....................................................................................... 75

Using Children’s Literature to Teach about Farm Work and Farm Workers by Judith Y. Singer ......... 78

Expo: A Middle School History Museum by Michael Whelan ............................................................... 81