MLW (mean low water): The average height of the low waters over a 19-year period.
Source: Adapted from US Department of Transportation, Port Performance Freight Statistics Program & Port Authorities.
Note: Containership capacity refers to full ships. A port can accommodate larger ships if they are partially loaded.